Thomas Arrigo Secures Peach Alley Work With Borough

ORDINANCE CONSIDERED

The contract for the grading and paving of Peach alley from Long alley to Fallowfield avenue was awarded by council Tuesday to Thomas Arrigo at a price that will approximate $1. It is presumed that work will begin at once. Mr. Arrigo's bid was at the rate of $2 a square yard for paving, 15 cents a cubic yard for grading and 75 cents a foot for putting the curb in position. Peach alley is the alley back of the Mail building. Brick approved by the street committee and the borough engineer must be used by the contractor.

An ordinance establishing the sidewalk grade on Shady avenue from Second street to Sixth street on the east side of the street was passed first reading. It was ordered printed and posted.

A petition was received from property owners along Lookout avenue between Fourth and Fifth street, asking for a sidewalk grade. The petition was placed in the hands of the engineer.

William McMahon was present with a request that a stable belonging to him on Cherry alley between Third and Fourth streets be lowered. No action was taken.

ROADS ROAD CONTRACT NOT LET BY THE STATE

Although bids opened Tuesday at the State capitol for the construction of the road between the Maple Creek bridge and the Belle Vernon bridge in Speers borough, no contract was awarded. Probably the State Highway department will let the contract in a short time. The Hallam Construction company of Washington is the lowest bidder.

MOTOR ENTHUSIASTS TO HOLD A SMOKER

Invitations have been issued by the Belle Vernon Automobile club for a smoker to be held in Kittles Hall, at that place on next Tuesday evening. There will be present members of the State Automobile Federation, State Senate and Legislature. Good speakers have been programmed to make addresses.

New Trial in Damage Suit

Sum of $11,000 Claimed to be Excessive for Death of Husband

The Page Woven Wire Fence company, which owns one of the big plants at Monessen has been awarded a new trial in the damage suit of Mrs. Margaret Morrison of Monessen. Mrs. Morrison secured a verdict in the spring of $11,000 against the company for the death of her husband, David Morrison. The verdict was one of the largest of recent years in Westmoreland against an industrial concern. The Page people were dissatisfied with the outcome, claiming the amount was excessive. Judge McConnell handed down the order granting a new trial.

Daisytown Killing Heard in Criminal Court---Green Case Begins

The case against Walter Lazofsky in criminal court at Washington, charged with manslaughter was concluded Tuesday evening and the case went to the jury. Two other defendants implicated with Lazofsky, Mike Rusock and Costic Lavitske, were called for trial today.

The crime for which the men were indicted occurred at Daisytown on September 3, following a christening. There was drinking and a fight, and a guest at the affair, Sabastian Adamczyik, was stabbed, dying shortly afterwards. Six men were arrested, as implicated in the crime, two of whom were charged as being accessories. The grand jury ignored the bill against three of the men and held the three now in court on a charge of manslaughter.

George Green, charged with the murder of Celia Funka, the young German girl assaulted and murdered near Manifold, last August, was also called for trial today.

ARRESTED FOR PLAYING PIANO

Because he tried to entertain the folks with a little dishwasher music at his own photoplay theatre Saturday night after nine o'clock, Frank Dauria got into a bundle of trouble at Connellsville. It cost him $5.

It seems that Connellsville has sort of a law to the effect that anybody caught tampering with a three-speed quadruple expansion, muffler-unattached piano after a certain hour Saturday nights is guilty of a misdemeanor. And as they remark over in Mud Island, Frank misdemeaned.

Connellsville, it is affirmed, has in times past offered encouragement to burlesque shows that were so extreme they didn't need any encouragement, and to have done other things that it is not wise to converse extensively about. But they draw the line on piano thumping that comes under the classification of alleged. It is not asserted whether or not people are allowed to play their own pianos at their owns homes.

WATCH IS THE BOOTY

Buglars Enter the Home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gee

ARE FRIGHTENED AWAY

Burglars entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gee, on Luella avenue near Third street this morning at about 3 o'clock, and managed to secure for their booty a gold watch belonging to Mr. Gee. They were frightened away before they had time to make a complete search.

One of the family works at night, returning home at about 3 o'clock. The door is left unlocked so that he can get it without disturbing the sleepers. The burglars made their entrance through this open door. Just at the time when they were getting down to work the young man came home. They heard him and made their escape out the street. Littering the floor were a number of papers, showing the burglars were starting on a earch for money and valuables.

There is no clue as to the identity of the thieves.

LOST COUNT AFTER HIS TWELFTH GLASS

Ordinarily twelve glasses of straight whiskey would make a man forget his mother-in-law, but all a Roscoe man forgot when he arrived on the outside of that number was the count. He tabulated with the accuracy of a bank teller until he got to 12, but he was unable to tell when he took the unlucky thirteenth. Results were obvious. The Roscoe citizen wanted to talk. Interrupted by the police he declared himself with various embellishments that by heck he was a free man and could do as he blamed pleased. It apparently was a question of his personal liberty, so both he and it were placed where they wouldn't hurt anybody.

DIPHTHERIA CASES MANY IN MONESSEN

Physicians and the Board of Health of Monessen are working in co-operation to prevent the spread of diphtheria, an epidemic of which is now raging there Since the first of November 17 cases have been reported. Eight new cases were reported last week. Doctors are at a loss to account for the rapid spread of the disease. During the month of September 15 cases were reported and in October 17 cases.

RELIGION REASONABLE REV. BRIGHT ARGUES

Rev. F. A. Bright, the evangelist holding services at the First Christian church preached Tuesday evening on the subject "The Reasonableness of Religion" to a large audience. He argued his belief that the normal man believed in religion because he realized it was reasonable and the abnormal man did not believe in religion simply because he was abnormal. A choir of about 4 0voices, under direction of Rev. E. N. Duty furnished gospel music.. Tonight Rev. Bright will preach on "Faith and Unbelief."

ARRANGE SPECIAL

Billy Sunday Train to Leave Monessen Thursday at 6:15

MANY GOING FROM HERE

It is expected that 600 persons from this vicinity will go to McKeesport by special train of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie tomorrow night to hear Rev. Billy Sunday. Between 100 and 200 will go from Charleroi alone and Monessen will more than double this number if promises are held true.

The special train will leave Fayette City at about 6 o'clock and will take on passengers at intermediate points between there and Monongahela which will be the last stop for it. The train will arrive at Monessen at 6:15 o'clock and it is to that point thta Charleroi people will be expected to go. To get the train people will have to leave here no later than 5:30 o'clock.

Returning from McKeesport the train will leave at 10:30 o'clock, arriving at Monessen at 11 o'clock or thereabouts. From eleven to 15 coaches will be carried an ample number for the accommodation of all who wish to go. It is probable extra cars will be put on by the West Side Street railways company for the people from Charleroi. A special rate of $1.00 has been declared in force for the trip. Each person will be provided with a ticket of identity.

In the immense tabernacle a section of seats will be reserved in the center. These seats are among the best.

STOPS IN CHARLEROI ON HORSEBACK RIDE ACROSS THE COUNTRY

Arrayed in a cowboy hat, divided skirts and riding boots, Miss Alberta Claire, "The Girl From Wyoming," rode into town this forenoon on her buckskin cow pony "Bud," who has carried her across the continent and to numerous points in the east a distance of 10,000 miles or more. Miss Claire is filling an engagement at the Coyle Theatre this afternoon and evening, where she is recounting her experiences in a brief lecture after each show of the regular performanc. Her famous cowpony "Bud," and her wolfdog, "Mickie," are also on exhibition in front of the Coyle Theatre.

MISS ALBERTA CLAIRE,

Miss Claire visited the Mail office this morning and talked entertaingly of her varied experience.. She is a typical western girl, frank and unaffected in her manner, and besides being a keen observer possesses the faculty of expressing herself most interestingly.

"People have queer ideas about the west," she said. "Since coming east I have been asked all manner of strange questions. Many girls ask if I can get them a cowpuncher for a husband. To these I reply that the way to get a husband of that type is [illegible] out west themselves and make good. I am not running a matrimonial [illegible]

Family Auto Is no More

Each Individual Driver Compelled by New Ruling to Have a License

Joint ownership of an auto will of necessity be discontinued if a ruling of the State Highway department, effective after the first of January holds effective.. Word has been received that after the first of the year autos cannot be registered by two or more persons as joint owners. The license will be issued to one person only. Futhermore, every person, other than the owner, operating a car would be required to take out a driver's license, costing $2. This will prevent the making of an auto a family affair. The new rule is expected to make quite an increase in the revenues derived by the State from automobiles. The money goes into good roads.

PROSPERITY IS PRESAGED

Gov. Tener Makes Proclamation Announcing Date of Thanksgiving

Governor Tener issued the customary Thanksgiving proclamation Wednesday designating Thursday, November 28. The Governor says in his proclamation:

"The people of our state and nation have many things for which to be thankful. Living in an age of invention, surrounded with unusual resources, with no problem of the unemployed to solve, the people have enjoyed greater safety and comfort and higher social and intellectual privileges, than have fallen to the lot of a man in many previous age of the world.

"There are a number of things in which Pennsylvania in particular has been fortunate. Sheltered by a hundred hills and watered by numerous lakes and rivers, our state is filled with the picturesqueness and beautiful; yet this diversity has resulted in other advantages. Frost, fire and flood seldom affect us adversely. Even financial depressions lose their force with us because of the variety of our interests; and when the nation has passed through such afflictions, we have been quick to recover.

"During the year just passed Pennsylvania has had no great calamities and no industrial disturbances; her philanthrophic and financial institutions have flourished; her rural and urban communities have been unusually free from the scourge of disease; and her overflowing harvests presage a period of unrivaled prosperity.

"It is, therefore, natural and proper for all right-minded people to be filled with a spirit of thankfulness. It has been customary to set aside one day of the year for the purpose of giving expression to this feeling."

A PRACTICAL SCHOOL.

It is now pretty generally agreed that the public schools are not properly educating the great mass of children for the duties of life, but thus far no concerted effort seems to have been made, except here and there, to correct the deficiency. The time has now arrived for every school board to take the matter in hand and provide means for a practical education for those who cannot go to high school and college.

It has been learned that ninety-three per cent of the school children of the United States never go to high school, yet the whole school system throughout the grades is based on a prospective high school course for which only seven per cent of the children ever avail themselves. The result is that ninety-three per cent of the children leave school to go to work without knowing in a practical way the fundamental common branches. What is needed is at least two more grades in the common branches for those who do not expect to go to college, instead of dropping the three R's at the eighth grade at just the age when they are beginning to comprehend their use.

It is believed that if a school existed where nothing but the common branches are taught until the child is sixteen years of age, more children would remain in school up to that age instead of dropping out at fourteen to go to work. To the child who must make his own way there is no incentive to skip the common branches and study Latin or some higher branch that will be of no practical use, for an extra year in school.

NOT DISHONORED.

In a sense Mr. Taft's defeat is humiliating, for the popular vote has placed him third in the race, beaten by Mr. Roosevelt as well as by Mr. Wilson, says the New York Independent. However, humiliated he is not disgraced. He has been beaten for no fault of his, for no failure to give the most honest and faithful service to the country.

"This can fairly be said for Mr. Taft, that in the very trying position with the friend whom he had served leading the hosts against him, his attitude was restrained and courteous. His Democratic foes show him full respect and recognize the great achievements of his administration. It is only some of the new party's spokesmen who spice with venom their charges of weakness; but against that put the list of his achievements and the testimony of his Democratic opponents. For his faithfulness in breaking up monopolizing trusts and thus carrying out the policy laid down by his predecessor he has had scant thanks where they were most due. The support of corporations left him, and half the party ran after his popular rival, while others of his party, knowing that defeat was sure, in their anger with Mr. Roosevelt swelled the vote for Mr. Wilson.

"Mr. Taft will retire to private life stricken but not dishonored with the right to cherish the memory of a term of critical service honesty, ably and fruitfully accomplished and deserving and receiving the grateful honor of the people. We trust that President Wilson will recive from his party a better support than the Republican party has given Mr. Taft."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"They'll never protect deer or any other kind of game successfully in this state until they make game wardens out of the state constables," said Kerfoot W. Daly, who with Tom P. Sloan has just returned from a hunting expedition in Fulton county. "There are a number of deer in that section, but there are also a dozen hunters for every deer. More than that we had reason to believe they are being killed out of season, not by outside hunters, but by those who live in that section.

"For that reason I think the state constables ought to officiate as game wardens in connection with their other duties. Local officials will not inform on a neighbor, which makes enmity between them, and thus the game cannot be protected."

Tom P. Slon was one of the party who saw a deer, but as it was the day before the season opened, he did not make an effort to shoot it.

NEW RAILROAD GETS CHARTER

The Monessen Southwestern Railroad from Monessen to Charleroi was chartered Tuesday with a capital of $30,000, or $10,000 for each mile of its line. The officers are: Wallace H. Rowe, Pittsburg, president; John Bindley, Emil Winter, Willis F. McCook and E. H. Bindley, Pittsburg; George Nash, Monessen and W. K. Given, Edgewood, directors.

The line will figure as a connection with the Pittsburg and Lake Erie and prusumably will cross the river at Charleroi. It is believed the object of the line will be to give the Pittsburg Steel company the benefit of shipments over the Pennsylvania Railroad. The backers of the line are all Pittsburg Steel men.

Want Garbage Crematory.

The borough of Washington is seeking to get into Charleroi's class in the matter of having a garbage crematory to dispose of the refuse of thet own, which is becoming a serious question. A committee is visiting the various towns that have furnaces and it is believed that the council will approve the erection of a crematory at an early date.

SYMPTOMS OF CONSUMPTION

Yield to Vinol.

The medical profession does not believe that consumption isi nherited, but a person may inherit a weaknesss or a tendency to that disease.

A prominent citizen of Evansville, Ind., writes: "I was ill for five months with a pulmonary trouble, and had the best of doctors; I had hemorrhages and was in a very bad way. Through the advice of a friend I tried Vinol and I feel that it saved my life. I believe it is the greatest medicine on earth. I have advised others to try Vinol and they have had the same results." (Name furnished on request.)

Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and allays the cough Vinol creates an appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw incipient pulmonary diseases.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Elgar Stephens, Druggists.

LEGAL NOTICE.

To Abraham L. Young, Amy M. Bradbury, James E. Young and Stephen Wingett, take notice that in a proceeding filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Washington County, Pennsylvania, at No. 184 November Term, 1911, to assess damages for thetaking of land by right of eminent domain by the Pennsylvania, Monongahela & Southern Railroad Company, in which case the said railroad company filed a bond to the Commonwealth for the use of Mrs. Emma Young and Oscar Hartley, guardian of Harry B. Young, a weak minded person, and all other persons who may claim to be interested in the land appropriated. The said Court on September 20, 1912, filed three decrees and directed that notice of the filing of said decrees be given to the above named Abraham L. Young, Amy M. Bradbury, James E. Young and Stephen Wingett.

Now the said parties will hereby take notice of the filing of the said decrees and the contents thereof, which are briefly stated as follows:

First decree. In the first decree so filed the exceptions filed to the report of viewers by Mrs. Emma Young and Oscar Hartley, guardian, were dismissed for the reasons set forth in said decree.

Second decree. In the second decree the defendants railroad petition for the appointment of a trustee was refused for the reasons set forth in said decree.

Third decree. In the third decree so filed it was ordered that Abraham L. Young, Amy M. Bradbury, James E. Young and Stephen Wingett should be made plaintiffs in the said proceeding, and that the amount of any judgment that might be obtained against the defendant be paid by the defendant into Court and that the Court distribute the amount of that judgment between and among the parties that in law may be entitled to the same under the will of Morgan Young and the law of this Commonwealth.

The said decree provided further that notice of it and of the two other decrees above referred to be given to the said Abraham L. Young, Amy M. Bradbury, James E. Young and Stephen Wingett by publication twice a week for two consecutive weeks in the Washington Record and the Charleroi Mail and by mailing copies of said published notice by registered mail to the above named parties at their last known addresses.

as shown in moving pictures, ask me how many Indians I killed on my ride through the Indian country. My reply is that if I had killed an Indian I would no doubt be strung up for murder, the same as any one in the east who commits a similar crime."

Living close to the Wind River Indian reservation in Wyoming Miss Claire gave some very interesting information concerning the advancement of the Indians and the progress they are making in civilization. She told of her ride through Death Valley and how stations have been established on the trail by "Borax" Smith, of "Twenty Mule Team," fame. Only instead of twenty mule teams the borax is now hauled out by traction engines built expressly for traversing the sandy desert.

Miss Claire rode here from Brownsville this morning. This afternoon she gave souvenir postcards to the children who attended the matinee. She lectures again tonight between the regular performances.

CONTRACT AWARDED

ORDINANCE CONSIDERED

The contract for the grading and paving of Peach alley from Long alley to Fallowfield avenue was awarded by council Tuesday to Thomas Arrigo at a price that will approximate $225. It is presumed that work will begin at once. Mr. Arrigo's bid was at the rate of $2 a square yard for paving, 15 cents a cubic yard for grading and 75 cents a foot for putting the curb in position. Peach alley is the alley back of the Miall building. Brick approved by the street committee and the borough engineer must be used by the contractor.

An ordinance establishing the sidewalk grade on Shady avenue from Second street to Sixth street on the west side of the street was passed first reading. It was ordered printed and posted.

A petition was received from property owners along Lookout avenue between Fourth and Fifth street, asking for a sidewalk grade. The petition was placed in the hands of the engineer.

William McMahon was present with a request that a stable belonging to him on Cherry alley between Third and Fourth streets be lowered. On this no action was taken.

SPEERS ROAD CONTRACT NOT LET BY THE STATE

New Trial in Damage Suit

Sum of $11,000 Claimed to be Excessive for Death of Husband

The Page Woven Wire Fence company, which owns one of the big plants at Monessen has been awarded a new trial in the damage suit of Mrs. Margaret Morrison of Monessen. Mrs. Morrison secured a verdict in the spring of $11,000 against the company for the death of her husband, David Morrison. The verdict was one of the largest of recent years in Westmoreland against an industrial concern. The Page people were dissatisfied with the outcome, claiming the amount was excessive. Judge McConnell handed down the order granting a new trial.

The case against Walter Lazofsky in criminal court at Washington, charged with manslaughter was concluded Tuesday evening and the case went to the jury. Two other defendants implicated with Lazofsky, Mike Rusock and Costic Lavitske, were called for trial today.

The crime for which the men were indicted occurred at Daisytown on September 3, following a christening. There was drinking and a fight, and a guest at the affair, Sabastian Adamczyik, was stabbed, dying shortly afterwards. Six men were arrested, as implicated in the crime, two of whom were charged as being accessories. The grand jury ignored the bill against three of the men and held the three now in court on a charge of manslaughter.

George Green, charged with the murder of Celia Funka, the young German girl assaulted and murdered near Manifold, last August, was also called for trial today.

ARRESTED FOR PLAYING PIANO

Because he tried to entertain the folks with a little dishwasher music at his own photoplay theatre Saturday night after nine o'clock, Frank Dauria got into a bundle of trouble at Connellsville. It cost him $5.

It seems that Connellsville has sort of a law to the effect that anybody caught tampering with a three-speed quadruple expansion, muffler-unattached piano after a certain hour Saturday nights is guilty of a misdemeanor. And as they remark over in Mud Island, Frank misdemeaned.

Connellsville, it is affirmed, has in times past offered encouragement to burlesque shows that were so extreme they didn't need any encouragement, and to have done other things that it is not wise to converse extensively about. But they draw the line on piano thumping that comes under the classification of alleged. It is not asserted whether or not people are allowed to play their own pianos at their owns homes.

WATCH IS THE BOOTY

ARE FRIGHTENED AWAY

Burglars entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gee, on Luella avenue near Third street this morning at about 3 o'clock, and managed to secure for their booty a gold watch belonging to Mr. Gee. They were frightened away before they had time to make a complete search.

One of the family works at night, returning home at about 3 o'clock. The door is left unlocked so that he can get it without disturbing the sleepers. The burglars made their entrance through this open door. Just at the time when they were getting down to work the young man came home. They heard him and made their escape out the street. Littering the floor were a number of papers, showing the burglars were starting on a earch for money and valuables.

There is no clue as to the identity of the thieves.

LOST COUNT AFTER HIS TWELFTH GLASS

Ordinarily twelve glasses of straight whiskey would make a man forget his mother-in-law, but all a Roscoe man forgot when he arrived on the outside of that number was the count. He tabulated with the accuracy of a bank teller until he got to 12, but he was unable to tell when he took the unlucky thirteenth. Results were obvious. The Roscoe citizen wanted to talk. Interrupted by the police he declared himself with various embellishments that by heck he was a free man and could do as he blamed pleased. It apparently was a question of his personal liberty, so both he and it were placed where they wouldn't hurt anybody.

DIPHTHERIA CASES MANY IN MONESSEN

Physicians and the Board of Health of Monessen are working in co-operation to prevent the spread of diphtheria, an epidemic of which is now raging there Since the first of November 17 cases have been reported. Eight new cases were reported last week. Doctors are at a loss to account for the rapid spread of the disease. During the month of September 15 cases were reported and in October 17 cases.

RELIGION REASONABLE REV. BRIGHT ARGUES

Rev. F. A. Bright, the evangelist holding services at the First Christian church preached Tuesday evening on the subject "The Reasonableness of Religion" to a large audience. He argued his belief that the normal man believed in religion because he realized it was reasonable and the abnormal man did not believe in religion simply because he was abnormal. A choir of about 4 voices, under direction of Rev. E. N. Duty furnished gospel music. Tonight Rev. Bright will preach on "Faith and Unbelief."

ARRANGE SPECIAL

Billy Sunday Train to Leave Monessen Thursday at 6:15

MANY GOING FROM HERE

It is expected that 600 persons from this vicinity will go to McKeesport by special train of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie tomorrow night to hear Rev. Billy Sunday. Between 100 and 200 will go from Charleroi alone and Monessen will more than double this number if promises are held true.

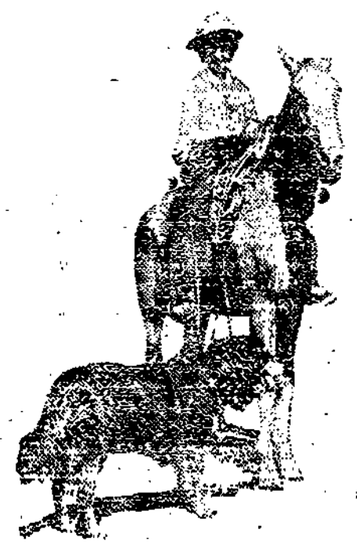
The special train will leave Fayette City at about 6 o'clock and will take on passengers at intermediate points between there and Monongahela which will be the last stop for it. The train will arrive at Monessen at 6:15 o'clock and it is to that point thta Charleroi people will be expected to go. To get the train people will have to leave here no later than 5:30 o'clock.

Returning from McKeesport the train will leave at 10:30 o'clock, arriving at Monessen at 11 o'clock or thereabouts. From eleven to 15 coaches will be carried an ample number for the accommodation of all who wish to go. It is probable extra cars will be put on by the West Side Street railways company for the people from Charleroi. A special rate of $1.00 has been declared in force for the trip. Each person will be provided with a ticket of identity.

In the immense tabernacle a section of seats will be reserved in the center. These seats are among the best.

STOPS IN CHARLEROI ON HORSEBACK RIDE ACROSS THE COUNTRY

Arrayed in a cowboy hat, divided skirts and riding boots, Miss Alberta Claire, "The Girl From Wyoming," rode into town this forenoon on her buckskin cow pony "Bud," who has carried her across the continent and to numerous points in the east a distance of 10,000 miles or more. Miss Claire is filling an engagement at the Coyle Theatre this afternoon and evening, where she is recounting her experiences in a brief lecture after each show of the regular performance. Her famous cowpony "Bud," and her wolfdog, "Mickie," are also on exhibition in front of the Coyle Theatre.



MISS ALBERTA CLAIRE,

Miss Claire visited the Mail office this morning and talked entertainingly of her varied experience. She is a typical western girl, frank and unaffected in her manner, and besides being a keen observer possesses the faculty of expressing herself most interestingly.

"People have queer ideas about the west," she said. "Since coming east I have been asked all manner of strange questions. Many girls ask if I can get them a cowpuncher for a husband. To these I reply that the way to get a husband of that type is come out west themselves and make good. I am not running a matrimonial bureau.

"Many young boys, actuated no doubt by their ideas of western life [illegible]

Family Auto Is no More

Each Individual Driver Compelled by New Ruling to Have a License

Joint ownership of an auto will of necessity be discontinued if a ruling of the State Highway department, effective after the first of January holds effective. Word has been received that after the first of the year autos cannot be registered by two or more persons as joint owners. The license will be issued to one person only. Futhermore, every person, other than the owner, operating a car would be required to take out a driver's license, costing $2. This will prevent the making of an auto a family affair. The new rule is expected to make quite an increase in the revenues derived by the State from automobiles. The money goes into good roads.

PROSPERITY IS PRESAGED

Gov. Tener Makes Proclamation Announcing Date of Thanksgiving

Governor Tener issued the customary Thanksgiving proclamation Wednesday designating Thursday November 28. The Governor says in his proclamation:

"The people of our state and nation have many things for which to be thankful. Living in an age of invention, surrounded with unusual resources, with no problem of the unemployed to solve, the people have enjoyed greater safety and comfort and higher social and intellectual privileges, than have fallen to the lot of a man in many previous age of the world.

"There are a number of things in which Pennsylvania in particular has been fortunate. Sheltered by a hundred hills and watered by numerous lakes and rivers, our state is filled with the picturesqueness and beautiful; yet this diversity has resulted in other advantages. Frost, fire and flood seldom affect us adversely. Even financial depressions lose their force with us because of the variety of our interests; and when thenation has passed through such afflictions, we have been quick to recover.

"During the year just passed Pennsylvania has had no great calamities and no industrial disturbances; her philanthrophic and financial institutions have flourished; her rural and urban communities have been unusually free from the scourge of disease; and her overflowing harvests presage a period of unrivaled prosperity.

"It is, therefore, natural and proper for all right-minded people to be filled with a spirit of thankfulness. It has been customary to set aside one day of the year for the purpose of giving expression to this feeling."

A PRACTICAL SCHOOL.

It is now pretty generally agreed that the public schools are not properly educating the great mass of children for the duties of life, but thus far no concerted effort seems to have been made, except here and there, to correct the deficiency. The time has now arrived for every school board to take the matter in hand and provide means for a practical education for those who cannot go to high school and college.

It has been learned that ninety-three per cent of the school children of the United States never go to high school, yet the whole school system throughout the grades is based on a prospective high school course for which only seven per cent of the children ever avail themselves. The result is that ninety-three per cent of the children leave school to go to work without knowing in a practical way the fundamental common branches. What is needed is at least two more grades in the common branches for those who do not expect to go to college, instead of dropping the three R's at the eighth grade at just the age when they are beginning to comprehend their use.

It is believed that if a school existed where nothing but the common branches are taught until the child is sixteen years of age, more children would remain in school up to that age instead of dropping out at fourteen to go to work. To the child who must make his own way there is no incentive to skip the common branches and study Latin or some higher branch that will be of no practical use, for an extra year in school.

NOT DISHONORED.

In a sense Mr. Taft's defeat is humiliating, for the popular vote has placed him third in the race, beaten by Mr. Roosevelt as well as by Mr. Wilson, says the New York Independent. However, humiliated he is not disgraced. He has been beaten for no fault of his, for no failure to give his most honest and faithful service to the country.

"This can fairly be said for Mr. Taft, that in the very trying position with the friend whom he had served leading the hosts against him, his attitude was restrained and courteous. His Democratic foes show him full respect and recognize the great achievements of his administration. It is only some of the new party's spokesmen who spice with venom their charges of weakness; but against that put the list of his achievements and the testimony of his Democratic opponents. For his faithfulness in breaking up monopolizing trusts and thus carrying out the policy laid down by his predecessor he has had scant thanks where they were most due. The support of corporations left him, and half the party ran after his popular rival, while others of his party, knowing that defeat was sure, in their anger with Mr. Roosevelt swelled the vote for Mr. Wilson.

"Mr. Taft will retire to private life beaten but not dishonored with the right to cherish the memory of a term of critical service honesty, ably and fruitfully accomplished and deserving and receiving the grateful President Wilson will recive from his party a better support than the Republican party has given Mr. Taft."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"They'll never protect deer or any other kind of game successfully in this state until they make game wardens out of the state constables," said Kerfoot W. Daly, who with Tom P. Sloan has just returned from a hunting expedition in Fulton county. "There are a number of deer in that section, but there are also a dozen hunters for every deer. More than that we had reason to believe they are being killed out of season, not by outside hunters, but by those who live in that section.

"For that reason I think the state constables ought to officiate as game wardens in connection with their other duties.. Local officials will not inform on a neighbor, which makes enmity between them, and thus the game cannot be protected."

Tom P. Slon was one of the party who saw a deer, but as it was the day before the season opened, he did not make an effort to shoot it.

NEW RAILROAD GETS CHARTER

The Monessen Southwestern Railroad from Monessen to Charleroi was chartered Tuesday with a capital of $30,000, or $10,000 for each mile of its line. The officers are: Wallace H. Rowe, Pittsburg, president; John Bindley, Emil Winter, Willis F. McCook and E. H. Bindley, Pittsburg; George Nash, Monessen and W. K. Given, Edgewood, directors.

The line will figure as a connection with the Pittsburg and Lake Erie and prusumably will cross the river at Charleroi. It is believed the object of the line will be to give the Pittsburg Steel company the benefit of shipments over the Pennsylvania Railroad. The backers of the line are all Pittsburg Steel men.

ARE MARRIED IN OAKLAND

Thanksgiving is almost here and you should lay in your Thanksgiving Linens. And while you are planning your Turkey Day Dinner, it, might be well for you to remember that Christmas is only a few short weeks off. It is none too early for you to think of Christmas shopping, and a little foresight saves you any amount of worry later

Thanksgiving Linens

No table is complete unless it is properly covered with beautiful linens; no Thanksgiving dinner is a success where old and unsightly linen is used. You will surely need some of our linens at Christmas time, so why not buy now and have them grace both occasions? Our Linens are both artistic and serviceable, some with neatly worked designs, others plain. There are many pretty designs such as Roses, Persian, Fleur-de-Lis, Plain Centers and Persian Borders.

Handsome Table Patterns of all linen, 64 inches and 72 inches wide and make up nicely. They range easily from 50c to $2.50

All Linen Napkins, one dozen to the set, a design suitable to use with any table cover. 75c and up to $3.50.

Linen Table Patterns, table covers of best linen, bordered and ready to use. Sizes 2½ to 3 yards wide. $2.75 to $4.00

Linen Table Sets of cover and napkins to match. You should see these handsome sets; they are nicely hemstitched of splendid design and above all ready to use. Cover and twelve napkins, $3.50, $10.00, $12.50 and $15.00 the set.

Guest Towel, beautiful all linen towel hemstitched and absolutely pure linen. A splendid towel and only 50c

Large Linen Towels, strictly pure linen hemstitched, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

Handsome China is a necessity and as essential as beautiful linens. You will find a splendid assortment here of novelties and open stock ware. Remember this when buying your linens and grace your table, buffet or sideboard with some of our beautiful china.

Want Garbage Crematory.

The borough of Washington is seeking to get into Charleroi's class in the matter of having a garbage crematory to dispose of the refuse of that own, which is becoming a serious question. A committee is visiting the various towns that have furnaces and it is believed that the council will approve the erection of a crematory at an early date.

SYMPTOMS OF CONSUMPTION

Yield to Vinol.

The medical profession does not believe that consumption is inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or a tendency to that disease.

A prominent citizen of Evansville, Ind., writes: "I was ill for five months with a pulmonary trouble, and had the best of doctors: I had hemorrhages and was in a very bad way. Through the advice of a friend I tried Vinol and I feel that it saved my life. I believe it is the greatest medicine on earth. I have advised others to try Vinol and they have had the same results." (Name furnished on request.)

Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and allays the cough Vinol creates an appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw incipient pulmonary diseases.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Piper Brothers Druggists.

LEGAL NOTICE

To Abraham L. Young, Amy M. Bradbury, James E. Young and Stephen Wingett, take notice that in a proceeding filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Washington County, Pennsylvania, at No. 184 November Term, 1911, to assess damages for the taking of land by right of eminent domain by the Pennsylvania, Monongahela & Southern Railroad Company, in which case the said railroad company filed a bond to the Commonwealth for the use of Mrs. Emma Young and Oscar Hartley, guardian of Harry B. Young, a weak minded person, and all other persons who may claim to be interested in the land appropriated. The said Court on September 20, 1912, filed three decrees and directed that notice of the filing of said decrees be given to the above named Abraham L. Young, Amy M. Bradbury, James E. Young and Stephen Wingett.

Now the said parties will hereby take notice of the filing of the said decrees and the contents thereof, which are briefly stated as follows:

First decree. In the first decree so filed the exceptions filed to the report of viewers by Mrs. Emma Young and Oscar Hartley, guardian, were dismissed for the reasons set forth in said decree.

Second decree. In the second decree the defendants railroad petition for the appointment of a trustee was refused for the reasons set forth in said decree.

Third decree. In the third decree so filed it was ordered that Abraham L. Young, Amy M. Bradbury, James E. Young and Stephen Wingett should be made plaintiffs in the said proceeding, and that the amount of any judgment that might be obtained against the defendant be paid by the defendant into Court and that the Court distribute the amount of that judgment between and among the parties that in law may be entitled to the same under the will of Morgan Young and the law of this Commonwealth.

The said decree provided further that notice of it and of the two other decrees above referred to be given to the said Abraham L. Young, Amy M. Bradbury, James E. Young and Stephen Wingett by publication twice a week for two consecutive weeks in the Washington Reporter and the Charleroi Mail and by mailing copies of said published notice by registered mail to the above named parties at their last known addresses.

as shown in moving pictures, ask me how many Indians I killed on my ride through the Indian country. My reply is that if I had killed an Indian [illegible] for, [illegible] the [illegible] is a [illegible] being close to the Wind River Indian reservation in Wyoming. Miss [illegible] gave some very interesting information concerning the advancement of the Indians and the progress they are making in civilization. She told of her ride through Death Valley and how stations have been established on the trail by "Borax" Smith, of "Twenty Mule Team," fame. Only instead of twenty mule teams the borax is now hauled out by traction engines built expressly for traversing the sandy desert.

Miss Claire rode here from Brownsville this morning. This afternoon she gave souvenir postcards to the children who attended the matinee. She lectures again tonight between the regular performances.
